

ROOSEVELT TRYING TO END THE WAR

RUSSIA AND JAPAN LOOKING TO THE PRESIDENT.

Germany is Strongly Backing Up Roosevelt—All the Powers Intensely Interested in the Negotiations.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—President Roosevelt, striving with excellent prospects of success, to end the Moody war, is now the central figure of the world's stage. One of the main obstacles, it seems, will be overcome at once. Both Russia and Japan have agreed to accept his good offices for the arrangement for the preliminaries. The belligerents are expected to be able to arrange the peace terms without outside interference. Evidence also exists that President Roosevelt has secured the support of several continental powers and that at the proper time they will appear at his back. Exactly what is transpiring at Washington is being carefully guarded. The diplomats here are still greatly at sea, not being able to do more than venture a shrewd guess and indulge in speculation. The interest with which the moves on the Washington chess-board are being followed is evidenced by the manner in which the Ambassadors and Ministers who learned of Ambassador Meyer's audience of Emperor Nicholas yesterday flocked to the American Embassy today in search of information. But the situation seems to be so delicate that the Ambassador is compelled to display the most complete reserve. If Japan proves moderate in her demands, peace seems at last to be close ahead. An armistice probably will be the first evidence the world will have that the two powers have agreed to shake hands.

EMPEROR HAS SAME VIEW AS ROOSEVELT

BERLIN, June 8.—The interview Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German Ambassador at Washington, has had with President Roosevelt and the cable correspondence between the Ambassador and the Foreign Office here, resulted in the President and Emperor finding that they had identical views on the subject of peace and were nearly of the same opinion as to the method of drawing Russia and Japan into negotiations. The joint view appeared to be that others, including France and Great Britain, ought to be left out because to be sure of a community of views among all would be a slow and cumbersome business, and would impress Russia as taking on the character of outside pressure. This is precisely what, as the Associated Press is informed, President Roosevelt and Emperor William wish to avoid.

WANTED CZAR TO MAKE THE FIRST MOVE. They wanted the Emperor of Russia to take the initiative and sought only that he should avail himself of the American and German governments as instruments for making the first step toward peace. The Russian government was informed through Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador at Washington, through Count Alvensleben, the German Ambassador at St. Petersburg, through Mr. Meyer, the American Ambassador at St. Petersburg, and through Count von Osten Sacken, the Russian Ambassador at Berlin, of what the United States and Germany were seeking, so that Ambassador Meyer's audience of Emperor Nicholas was prepared for in the fullest manner.

WANTS TO KNOW JAPAN'S TERMS. The understanding here is that Emperor Nicholas went so far as to say to Ambassador Meyer that he would like to know what Japan's terms would be. This inquiry was not to be construed as asking for peace, but only as telling friends that before so grave a step on their advice the Russian government might properly and naturally desire to know through those friends how Japan regarded peace.

TO DRIVE RUSSIA FROM THE PACIFIC. Japan, it is believed in government quarters here, will be reluctant to lay down specific peace conditions—far more reluctant than at any stage of the war, because preparations had been made to carry the campaign to Russian territory, take Vladivostok and Harbin and then exclude Russia from the Pacific. Unless her high conditions are complied with, this is a crude expression of what is thought to be Japan's immediate policy.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR CALLS ON PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, had a conference with the President soon after the latter's arrival at the executive offices today. The Ambassador was with the President for about half an hour. At the close of the interview Ambassador Jusserand said he could not discuss the subject of his call. Pressed for a statement as to whether peace negotiations were in progress, he replied that he could say nothing, that he had no news. He said that if anything at all were made public, it would have to come necessarily from President Roosevelt. So far as his conference with the President was concerned, he was at liberty to say nothing.

MESSAGE FROM ST. PETERSBURG. Acting Secretary of State Loomis called on the President today immediately after the visit of Ambassador Jusserand.

RUSSIAN LEADERS ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

LONDON, June 8.—It is definitely known that Foreign Minister Count Lamsdorff has initiated overtures through the Russian representatives abroad to learn Japan's disposition and terms of peace. These overtures, it is said here, began three days ago and were the basis of the decidedly more hopeful view which the officials began to have. At the same time it was then and still is recognized that Count Lamsdorff and M. Witte represent the peace element, and it is not yet clear how far the movement is shared by the Emperor.

However, Count Lamsdorff's position gives the overtures the force of coming from responsible quarters, whereas the previous movements lacked official origin. This clears the way for conversations between officials and diplomats here and at other capitals, which are now actively going on. These necessarily are circuitous, owing to Russia's inability to approach Japan directly. M. Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador here, has already conversed with the French authorities, who are fully aware of the desires of Count Lamsdorff and M. Witte.

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS CHANGE THEIR TONE

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—There is a significant change in the tone on the part of some of the Russian newspapers, like the Novoye Vremya, which never have even admitted the possibility of the conclusion of hostilities until Russia has recovered her military prestige by a victory. Today the papers discuss calmly the advisability of ending the war if Japan's terms are reasonable. The payment of a big indemnity, they declare, would be too humiliating. The Novoye Vremya says bluntly that if Japan asks too much it will pay Russia to prolong the contest indefinitely, while the Russ argues that if representatives of the people are called together Japan will see herself confronted by the whole nation, and she will readily agree to reasonable terms.

WANT NO DISGRACEFUL PEACE. "Even the revolutionists," the Russ adds, "are not traitors. They are fighting the present rotten bureaucracy and not the mother country. They would not tolerate a disgraceful peace." Universal regret is expressed in official circles at the retirement of M. Delcasse, until recently French Minister for Foreign Affairs. He was regarded as a true friend of Russia, was a personal friend of Foreign Minister Count Lamsdorff and was a sincere and unequivocal supporter of the dual alliance. The Novoye Vremya says: "We know how to appreciate true friends; we have so few of them." The Russ and the Slovo consider M. Delcasse to be the victim of trying to play the impossible role of a connecting link between two rivals—Russia and Great Britain. The Slovo says: "FRANCE WANTS GERMANY ISOLATED." M. Delcasse's policy was ever directed toward the isolation of Germany, but he forgot that an alliance with Great Britain will ruin any political system aimed against Germany. The British alliance has not helped France in Morocco, but it has embroiled her with Germany. M. Delcasse pays the penalty by retiring, as complications can be easily avoided with him out of the Cabinet, and his retirement will not affect the dual alliance." It now transpires that Ambassador Meyer's audience with Emperor Nicholas had been preceded by a family council at Tsarskoe-Selo, at which it is understood the decision was reached that peace was entertainable if Japan's conditions were not too onerous.

German Ambassador at Washington.

GERMANY WANTS CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 8, 4:37 P. M.—THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LEARNS THAT GERMANY HAS SENT AN IDENTICAL NOTE TO ALL THE POWERS SIGNATORY OF THE MADRID CONVENTION, PROPOSING AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE QUESTION OF MOROCCO. IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT NONE OF THE POWERS HAS YET REPLIED.

DURAND AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, called upon President Roosevelt at the White House this afternoon. Minister Takahira is expected to call later in the day.

Ambassador Durand's conference with the President lasted about twenty-five minutes. As he left the White House he said that it would be impossible for him to attempt to throw any light on the progress of peace negotiations. He had no definite information himself, he said, and indicated that that was not surprising, inasmuch as Great Britain would be the last country which possibly could take an active part in the negotiations for a cessation of hostilities in the Far East.

INFORMAL INQUIRY INTO IRRIGATION.

Prominent State Officials to Join U. S. Committee For An Investigation.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—A private car attached to the Sunset Express, and provided by the Southern Pacific, passed through this city at noon today en route to Yuma where it will join the National House and Senate Committees on Irrigation and proceed by special train to the Imperial district. The party, consisting of representatives of the California Promotion Committee, the State University, the Southern Pacific, and other institutions, was joined at Los Angeles by the following members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce: Congressman James McLachlan, J. B. Lippincott, supervising engineer United States Reclamation Service; M. J. Daniels, W. J. Washburn, Stoddard C. Jess, G. A. Parkyns, Congressman S. C. Smith, J. G. North, R. H. Myers, G. Griffith, Palmer Ashton, C. B. Boothe, M. T. Owens.

IN THE PARTY. Other members of the party are the following: Governor Pardee, James Horsburgh Jr., L. G. Siskind, L. H. Lovey, Congressman Julius Kahn, Arthur R. Briggs, Col. John C. Kilpatrick, Professor Leroy Anderson, Professor E. J. Wickson, Hamilton Wright, J. W. Erwin, General Will S. Green and L. H. Long. Not all of the members of the Congressional Irrigation Committee have been able to make the trip, which is in the nature of an unofficial inspection, by members having charge of the irrigation and reclamation of arid lands.

SOMETHING NEW. It is the first time in the history of the West that the Congressmen interested in irrigation and reclamation have undertaken to make themselves familiar with the territory by personal inspection. Word received today gives the following as the personnel of the Congressional party: F. T. Dubois, Idaho; Francis G. Newlands, Nevada; F. M. L. Simmons, North Carolina; K. W. Mondell, Wyoming, chairman House Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation of Arid Lands; W. A. Reeder and wife, Kansas; A. F. Cooper and wife, Pennsylvania; W. L. Jones and wife, Washington; W. R. Smith, Texas; J. I. Packer, Washington, D. C., chief of division of lands and railroads; Professor Elwood Mead, chief of irrigation investigations, department of agriculture; C. J. Rowley, chairman committee on Public Lands and Irrigation; H. G. Brown and wife, Portland and Arthur Ruhl, New York. The party is in charge of C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the United States Geological Survey. Mrs. Blanchard accompanies him.

WELL INFORMED. The Congressional party will be well informed about conditions in California, the Promotion Committee having supplied maps, data, and literature on the whole State. United States Senator Frank Flint has already joined the Congressional party at Phoenix and R. H. Ingram, of the Southern Pacific, will meet the northern delegation at that city.

PEACE IS NOW IN SIGHT

How the President Proposes to End the War.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Pending negotiations for the promotion of peace in the Far East have assumed within a few hours an unexpectedly favorable phase. While it might be too much to say at this moment that peace is in sight, in view of the delicacy of the exchanges now in progress, it is certain that there is greater hope now for a successful termination of the present negotiations than there has been at any time.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS. It can be said that the result of Ambassador Meyer's audience with the President yesterday was distinctly favorable. It has been the effort of President Roosevelt throughout the exchanges which have taken place between the United States and European powers since the battle of the Korean Straits to bring Russia and Japan into such touch as would enable the two belligerents to reach a basis of common understanding. In this effort he has had the support of several of the important powers whose influence carries weight with both the warring governments.

MORE HOPEFUL. While the situation is "more hopeful," as an important factor in the problem of the negotiations phrased it, it can be said that so far as is known here, Russia has not formally asked yet for the terms on which Japan would be willing to conclude peace, although it is not denied that she may have expressed an interest in their character, thus indicating a receptive mood. It is regarded as not unlikely that in a general way the terms of the Japanese government may be known to the President in a few hours.

JAPANESE MINISTER CALLS. WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Japanese Minister and Baron Kaneko, who has been negotiating Japanese loans, called on the President after Ambassador Durand had gone. They came separately, the Baron leaving the White House before the Minister called. After a conference lasting about half an hour Minister Takahira left the executive offices and drove to his legation. He said he could not discuss the situation at this time, much as he should like to throw some light on it for the American press. He declined to say whether or not Japan's peace terms have been indicated to the President.

CITY HALL COMMITTEE TO MEET TOMORROW. Mayor Mott will call a citizens' committee together tomorrow afternoon so that it may organize for the purpose of advising the erection of a suitable City Hall. "There must be no such word as fail," says Mayor Mott, and he believes that with the combined energy of the representative business men and all the influence that the administration can bring to bear that a new City Hall will be a reality in a short time and the present structure, which serves as a City Hall, will be removed forever.

It is probable that the committee which the Mayor will call together will follow the lines suggested by the chief executive and that is that the new hall shall be located on the present site. "I do not want to limit the ideas as to what we need," said Mayor Mott this morning. "I want the committee to have a free hand and evolve something commensurate with Oakland's greatness. There must be no such thing as fail. If we start this project it must be pushed to a successful conclusion. I am sure that the people of Oakland will heartily endorse the project. I think that the pre-

LOSS IS FIFTEEN THOUSAND

Ten Thousand Killed and Five Thousand Prisoners.

GUNHU PASS, Manchuria, June 8.—According to reports received by General Linkevitch from naval officers who have arrived at Vladivostok, the losses of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet were from nine to ten thousand officers and men killed or drowned, and about five thousand prisoners.

General Batjanoff, commander of the Third Manchurian army, addressing the troops yesterday on the occasion of the Emperor's birthday, told them he hoped to soon be able to telegraph the news of a Russian victory to His Majesty.

Later, in conversation with the correspondent of the Associated Press, the general declared that the defeat of the fleet was a sad and hard blow, but it would not affect the morale of the troops, who with the doggedness of the Russian soldier were prepared to fight on as long as the Emperor gave the word. "If the sea is lost," he added, "Russia can still be victorious on land. Peace, unless Japan is reasonable, is impossible."

GOES TO JOIN THE BRITISH ARMY. NEW YORK, June 8.—Lieutenant Colonel Ager, Royal Engineers, arrived here today on the steamer Majestic on his way to Manchuria to join the British army representatives with the Japanese force in the field. The Earl of Cathness also was a passenger on the Majestic.

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY=4:30 P. M.

FRANK MAESTRETTI ON WITNESS STAND.

Declares He Did Not Instruct Anybody to Swear Falsely in Election Cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The greater portion of today's trial of Frank Maestretti, Commissioner of Public Works, charged with subornation of perjury, was devoted to an examination of the defendant.

Maestretti admitted that after the primary election in August he had talked with Charles Wyman, an election officer, who had been arrested for ballot stuffing, and asked him how his case would come out.

"I took an interest in Wyman because he was an old friend of mine," said the witness. "I did not instruct anybody or request them to swear falsely regarding the election."

District Attorney Byington took the witness on cross-examination. The jurors in the case will be kept in charge of the Sheriff until after they have rendered a verdict. It is expected that the arguments in the case will commence tomorrow afternoon.

"I was born in Stockton, but have lived in San Francisco nearly all my life, 41 years," said Maestretti, on direct examination. "I have been in the marble business on Central avenue for fifteen years. I have lived thereabout during that time."

Budd succeeded in getting in evidence that Maestretti lives with his mother, is a widower and has three children, aged respectively 19, 12 and 9 years.

"What is your nationality?" "This question brought out a storm of protest from the prosecution, it being claimed that an effort was being made to 'read' some on the jury. Budd and Fernald engaged in a very heated fight. The court ruled for the defense.

"My descent is Swiss," said Maestretti. Maestretti then said he had never been in the saloon business at any time, and was not at present. He declared that Wyman owned the saloon at Central avenue and Sutter street.

"I have been in politics in the Western Addition for about fourteen years," said the witness. "In the territory now known as the Thirty-ninth district, formerly the Fortieth district, I am a Republican. I have been for fourteen years. I was not always a Republican. I belong to the Roosevelt Republican club, headquartered at Central avenue and Sutter. It has about 400 members. Countryman is the president. The clubrooms are about thirty feet from the saloon."

KNOWS EVERYONE WELL. Witness had known Charles Wyman for fifteen years and had been friendly. He never knew that Wyman was charged with any offense prior to the stuffing episode. Wyman's standing was good.

"Did you and Wyman call on Merrill after the primary of August 9?" "I did. One evening Wyman and I were talking along Central avenue discussing his case. He said Merrill will tell you I didn't do anything wrong. We went to Merrill's house. Merrill told me he did not see Wyman more than once, and I asked him if he would swear to L. That was about all there was to the interview. I did not say the case would be a farce."

"I never met Merrill more than three times in my life. He was Wyman's friend. I knew him only casually."

Maestretti then told of the meeting at Countryman's office. He said:

"That meeting was while the Wyman case was in this court—two or three days before the prosecution closed its case. I did not keep the date. It was after January 3.

MEETING AT NIGHT. "Wyman, Countryman, Foster, Podd, Silberstein and myself were present. It was at night. The different election officers told Countryman what they knew of the case. The substance of their statements was that Wyman hadn't done anything wrong. I believed their statements."

"Did you say to any of those present to swear that Wyman voted only once?" "I did not. I made no suggestions and gave no order to the witnesses."

"Was that the only meeting at Countryman's office during the course of the trial?" "No."

"Was there any meeting at Countryman's office during the preliminary examination?" "No."

"Witness denied that Podd had ever told him that Wyman voted more than once. He said that one night at 'Wyman's' saloon Podd told him that Detective Bolger had threatened to send him to the rockpile. Witness had said to Podd: 'Have no fear. All you have to do is to tell the truth.'"

Budd then read the indictment to Maestretti, and the witness denied the charge in toto. Referring to Silberstein, Maestretti said: "I always advised him to put him on the witness stand. We were in the district attorney's office. District Attorney Byington then commenced the cross-examination. Maestretti said that his first vote was cast as a Democrat. He couldn't remember how long he had taken an active interest in Democratic politics."

TODAY HER JEWELRY

One of Officers of Sues to Save His Property From Being Sold.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—While every peace officer in the State was searching for W. R. Hale, one of the officers of the wrecked Goldfield Trust and Security Company, he was living quietly at the Jameson apartments in the Linda Vista, Turk and Fort streets, in this city. When he left he carried away a diamond ring valued at $200 and a near-diamond pin worth $250. The stolen diamonds were the property of Mrs. Maggie Jameson, at whose home he was given shelter, and this morning she swore to a complaint against Hale charging him with grand larceny.

Mrs. Jameson told of her experiences with Hale to Captain of Detectives Egan this morning. She stated that Hale had been staying at the home of herself and husband for some time before the scandal connected with the Goldfield Trust and Security Company, and immediately upon the fact becoming public that the officials were accused of wrecking the institution Hale disappeared. This was on May 14, and at the time of his disappearance Mrs. Jameson's diamonds and pin were missing. Mrs. Jameson advised her husband of the theft by wire. He was on his way to the police station when he was taken to the police station by a detective.

When President J. S. Young of the wrecked institution was arrested, F. L. Burton, was arrested in this city but claimed to know nothing of the whereabouts of Hale, whom he had accused of responsibility for the whole trouble. Acting on the advice of Captain of Detectives Egan, the police went to a complaint against Hale this morning, charging him with grand larceny. A warrant for his arrest was issued by Police Judge Cabanis and Detective Gibson has been detailed to locate the missing banker.

DISCUSSING SALE MASONIC TEMPLE

SOME LODGES AND HOLDERS OF STOCK HAVE AGREED TO DISPOSE OF PROPERTY.

Regarding the proposed sale of Masonic Temple and lot at the intersection of Twelfth and Washington streets and the conversion of the structure into a business block, George H. Smith, a member of the committee appointed to look into the matter of the proposed sale of the Masonic bodies of this city, said today:

"A number of people who hold stock in the property have consented to the proposed sale. There is also an amount of stock held by the Masonic lodges of this city. Two of these, I know, have consented to the sale of the place. There is about 60 per cent of the property owned by the Masonic lodges. The price offered for the property is $120,000, but I don't think some of the lodges will agree to sell for that sum. They do not think it is enough. There will probably have to be $150,000 or $200,000 added to the sum offered in order to satisfy all the parties interested."

A proposition to affiliate with the Federation of American Catholics was defeated, chiefly on the ground that by doing so the Knights of Columbus would lose its individuality. A substantial purse was presented to the Knights of Columbus by the presence of mind was largely instrumental in preventing injury to the Knights on his part. The Knights of Columbus will not operate in connection with the present plan of an increasing scale of premiums for advanced rank.

SUN SHINES ON KING ALFONSO

LONDON, June 8.—For the first time since his arrival in England King Alfonso saw the sun, a bright summer day being provided for the important function of his visit, the military review at Aldershot. The two kings, on arriving at the camp, drove to Lafans Plain, where they mounted chargers and, accompanied by their staffs, proceeded to the parade grounds. About 25,000 troops of all arms were closely scrutinized by King Alfonso, who apparently was keenly interested.

PRESIDENT SHEA CONTINUES THE BATTLE

LEADER OF STRIKERS DECLARES PEACE TERMS WERE REJECTED.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Hope for peace in the teamsters' strike was today apparently abandoned by unionists and employers. The teamsters planned to continue the fight.

President Shea declared that a "good square proposition" for peace made yesterday was refused by the employers. Funds were declared to be rolling in for the strike. The usually conservative president of the Department Store Drivers' Union, Peter Urtiz, claimed to voice the conviction of the members of that union when he said that it looked like a fight until winter. The drivers, he said, have made their plans with that view of the situation.

"There will be no new peace overtures from us," said President Shea, of the teamsters. "Whenever goods are sent to untair houses the union drivers will quit work." Open defiance of leading men of the Team Owners' Association marked the attitude of the leaders of the teamsters' joint council. It was not the intention of the Team Owners' Association to hold a meeting today to decide upon action, but so acute did the situation appear that a number of the employers met in Secretary T. J. Cavanaugh's office. Opinion was divided on the subject of drastic measures. Some of the conservative members of the association held that there should be no resort to a lockout unless all other methods failed.

On the other hand, whatever dissensions in the national board of teamsters there may have been, the strike leaders seemed to have rallied today about Leader Shea, who was apparently again in full sway.

DAN DOODY WILL TRY TO TAKE OFFICE

Daniel W. Doody will probably try to take his position in the Street Department as an assistant clerk on Monday next. Superintendent of Streets Ott has formulated a plan whereby to receive Doody, but states that he will be guided solely by the action of the Board of Public Works in the matter. Thus far, neither the Mayor nor any of the administration have given Ott any authority relative to his probable action when Doody seeks to take up the duties of his office. It is probable, however, that Mayor Mott and Commissioner Turner will advise Superintendent Ott to take no notice of the Council's action in the appointing of Doody.

While the institute, he added, does not intend to remove the middleman, it intends to direct the hand of the manipulator and bring it under the control of agriculture from chance by placing it on a firm basis.

NO HOPE OF SAVING THE MEN

PLYMOUTH, June 8.—Further details of the loss of the British submarine boat are at hand this afternoon.

A heavy explosion occurred over the position where the submarine boat sank and there is no hope of saving any of the men who were carried down with her.

The explosion at first reported was believed to have been caused by the escape of gasoline, similar to those of the "A. 5." One of the survivors who was saved says he was unable to explain the cause of the accident; to the "A. 5." He added that she suddenly dipped while the hatches were opened and the boat immediately filled and sank. The man added: "Lieutenant Candy, came to my assistance when I was almost exhausted and kept me afloat until we were picked up by the trawler."

This is the third submarine boat destroyed within a little more than a year, the others being the "A. 1," run down by a liner in the Solent by which eleven officers and men were entombed in the bottom of the sea, and the "A. 5," which sank off Queensdown after an explosion by which six of her crew were killed.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE
W. E. DARGIE, President
Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

An Odious Comparison.

The retirement of William Court Gully from the Speakership of the British House of Commons suggests a comparison between American and British methods of parliamentary procedure. The Speaker is the dictator of Congress; he is a rank partisan, names all the committees and in fact allows members to speak or make motions by favor. His pleasure is the sole rule for deciding who is entitled to the floor. It is altogether different in the British House of Commons. The Speaker has nothing to say about forming committees. He does not preside as a partisan, and makes no effort to influence legislation, much less dictate its character or time for enacting it. He sits merely as a moderator to preserve order and insure fair play. His powers are despotic, but they are never exercised to promote party ends or to shape the action of the House.

Mr. Gully is a Liberal, having been elected during the Gladstone regime, but when the Conservatives came into power he was re-elected and could have remained Speaker as long as he chose had not ill-health compelled his retirement. His successor will be a Conservative, but nobody expects him to be displaced in case the Liberals return to power at the next election. It is the boast of the English Commons that no Speaker has ever been charged with unfairness or accused of ruling in the interests of his party.

The extreme partisanship and frank unfairness so often displayed, particularly of late years, by Speakers in the House of Representatives do not shine by contrast with the presiding officer of the British Commons. The spectacle of the elected representatives of a free people cowering abashed before a petty despot of their own choosing is not inspiring,—lectured, hector and domineered over by a man who is not only a rabid partisan, but a factionist in his own party. We see the Speaker dictating to the House as to what measures it shall consider, boycotting and denying the floor to members who fall under his ban, and otherwise treating the House as a parcel of unruly children, who should be told when to wipe their noses and how to sit straight.

Such things are impossible under the British system. They ought to be under our own. Party expediency has made a Caesar of the Speaker, and when fortuitous circumstance elevates some narrow, prejudiced and half-educated party hack, like Uncle Joe Cannon or J. Warren Kiefer to the Speaker's chair, the exhibitions are almost as absurd as Sancho Panza's efforts to govern his mock island. We have something to learn from our British brethren, if not from Uncle Joe Cannon.

General Linevitch says he expects not only to defeat the Japanese, but to drive them out of Manchuria. It is an expectation very few military men share with him. An army that has not one victory to its credit, but many crushing defeats to its debit, is not usually the safest fighting machine to depend upon.

The Department of Agriculture estimates this year's wheat crop in the United States at 670,000,000 bushels—a banner yield. As the crop as well along toward maturity, the estimates are not likely to be much discounted by the harvest. A great crop is also promised. Reports from the Southern States indicate that the acreage in cotton this year is about 18 per cent less than the acreage last year, but more land is devoted to grain and forage crops. The decreased acreage in cotton is a benefit. Last year the South produced too much cotton, and in consequence the price fell very low. By planting less cotton the South will get better prices and make more money. Besides, it promotes crop diversification, which is changing the character of Southern agriculture and obsoleting the old hand-to-mouth policy of depending upon the cotton crop alone. On the whole perhaps the agricultural outlook was never better, taking the entire country over, than it is this season. Prices are good, the yield promises to be large and no part of the land is specially afflicted with crop failure. Uncle Sam's corn, wheat, cotton and cabbage patches all appear to be in first rate order.

Linevitch wants young reservists sent out to reinforce him. He does not like to kiss the old fellows.

Praise For Secretary Bonaparte.

That the new Cabinet officer is a prophet not without honor in his own country is proved by the unstinted commendation of the Baltimore Sun. The Sun is the bible of the Maryland Democracy. It is able, clean, conservative, and an advocate of the best that is politics from a Democratic standpoint. What it has to say about Mr. Bonaparte is entitled to respect, as coming from the leading paper in the opposition party of his State. There is nothing half way in these remarks:

"The appointment by the President of Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore as the Secretary of the Navy is an executive act of peculiar appropriations and one that, coming just now, carries with it a great degree of significance. In every way the State of Maryland, of which Mr. Bonaparte is a distinguished citizen, has been closely identified with the navy. Its great training school for officers is here at the capital of the State, in close communication with the national capital. The people are naturally in sympathy with the arm of the service of which he will be the civil administrator. The President, if he had looked over the whole country, could not have found a Cabinet officer more congenial or a man better fitted for such a responsible place. Throughout his career Mr. Bonaparte has been identified with the element in the Republican party of his State and of the country at large which has been steadily and persistently for better methods in politics. In Maryland he stands for the best that can be gotten out of politics, and he has risen to power and influence in his party without compromising his self-respect or trucking to any boss. His association with President Roosevelt dates back some two decades of effort in the purification of politics. His weapon of keen sarcasm has penetrated the thick hide of many a political boss, but it cannot be said that he, or the President either, for that matter, have brought about any considerable political reformation in this State. Nevertheless, Mr. Bonaparte stands the peer of any Republican in Maryland, and deservedly so for correctness of private life, cleanliness of his personal politics and ability, qualifying him for the high place to which the President has called him. He was the only Republican Presidential elector chosen in Maryland in November, 1904, and he led the poll. He is a trained lawyer of distinction, of ripe scholarship, thoroughly acquainted with men and their methods; he has never faltered in the effort to beat down crookedness in politics and is, like the President, honest and desirous of reverting to the plain and clean way of dealing with public affairs. He will prove a good influence in the President's Cabinet."

There is nothing in this about Mr. Bonaparte's lineage. The encomiums are predicated entirely on his ability, worth, character and public services. While the Baltimore Sun is a great stickler for pedigree, it does not count among his merits the fact that Mr. Bonaparte is descended on one side from the proudest of the old Catholic aristocracy of Maryland and on the other from the brother of Napoleon Bonaparte. His force and elevation of character have apparently obscured his high pedigree. A higher compliment could hardly be paid him.

The only authentic record of the proceedings of the convention which framed the Federal Constitution is found in the notes taken by James Madison. If the editor of Calaveras Prospect will study them, he will find that Alexander Hamilton had no practical part in framing that instrument. Nearly every public man of note in the colonies advocated the calling of the convention, hence Hamilton's advocacy of that project was not particularly important; certainly, it had no part in shaping the Constitution.

It will surprise many Americans to learn that Benedict Arnold's autograph is highly prized by collectors. At a recent sale of autographs and documents in London a letter written by Arnold to the Earl of Shelburne, in 1782, regarding the American war was knocked down for $105. A letter by Napoleon to his mother respecting Jerome Bonaparte, grandfather of the new Secretary of the Navy, only brought $125. The sale of this old letter calls up the fact that Americans generally cherish a fiction in regard to the later years of the arch traitor of the Revolution. The popular impression in the United States is that Arnold died in poverty, shunned and despised by the British public. Such was not the case. Arnold was never rich, but he lived comfortably on the pay of a major-general and enjoyed intimacy with many noblemen and gentry of his day. One of his sons was a lieutenant-general in the British army and another became a major-general. Arnold's treason was no bar to social and military recognition in England. The popular recitation so often heard in American schools purporting to depict the scene at Arnold's deathbed is a rank fake, so far as fact is concerned. It is of a piece with the pious fraud regarding the deathbed of Tom Paine.

Despite the repeated asseverations of the St. Petersburg authorities that the war must continue, many circumstances indicate that approaches to a settlement are under consideration. The conferences at the White House between the President and the diplomatic representatives of the various foreign powers all have a bearing on the subject of peace, and in every capital in Europe the Russian minister is having private consultations with those in authority. All these circumstances indicate a concerted movement to bring about a cessation of hostilities. And there are other circumstances bearing out this view. The great armies facing each other in Manchuria are doing nothing. As if by concert they have ceased even the daily skirmishes. For several days there has been a total cessation of the expeditionary attacks and counter attacks which were so frequent prior to the battle of Tushuma. Evidently both parties are holding off from hostile maneuvers by some sort of understanding, very likely in obedience to orders from Tokio and St. Petersburg. It is not improbable therefore that the war will cease without further bloodshed.

TWO EMINENT AMERICANS.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, the Calaveras Prospect and the Nevada City Miner-Transcript have been discussing the relative merits of Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Hamilton. The Prospect's conception of the great founder and leader of the federalist party is utterly erroneous. Mr. Hamilton was regarded as the brilliant genius of the constitutional convention of 1787 and Mr. Madison the convention's most sagacious statesman. Mr. Hamilton, however, utterly failed to leave upon that immortal document the impress of his genius. His ideas were largely impractical and at heart he was a royalist and an aristocrat. For instance, on the floor of the convention he advocated a government of which the President and Senators should hold office for life! As a writer of note has happily said, Mr. Hamilton represented the force of national law and Mr. Jefferson that of individual freedom and Mr. Jefferson's idea seemed to Mr. Hamilton that of a bear broken loose from its chain while Mr. Hamilton's idea of law appeared to Mr. Jefferson only that of British law, then administered by the few and for the few, with little regard for the happiness or rights of the many. That is to say, the popular conception of government was represented by Mr. Jefferson and the aristocratic by Mr. Hamilton. It has been correctly said that the great federalist, in his characterization of Mr. Jefferson's idea of liberty, reveals his own contempt for the great mass of common laboring people by comparing them to the bear that it was unsafe to release from its chain. Whether Mr. Hamilton ever really favored a republican form of government for this country is questionable. There are excellent reasons for belief that he accepted it more from necessity than from choice.

Mr. Hamilton was not a very candid or a very moral man. He was by no means the saint his admirers painted after he fell in his duel with Vice-President Burr. In point of morals the last-named was easily his peer. Nobody can dispassionately read the correspondence between them that preceded the meeting without conviction that the federalist was guilty of duplicity and an expert in dissimulation. Mr. Burr's letters were straightforward and to the point; Mr. Hamilton's were unkind and evasive. It was the testimony of Mr. Hamilton's contemporaries that he was somewhat of a bully, addicted to "language" and always apparently ready for trouble. The opinion was at the time freely expressed that Colonel Burr seemed to be about the only one of Mr. Hamilton's political enemies with the courage to call him out. Aside from his brilliant genius, what his friends most admired in Mr. Hamilton was his splendid courage. Mr. John Jay's treaty with England was exceedingly unpopular in America, but this fact did not deter Mr. Hamilton from undertaking its defense in a most spirited speech in the city of New York. He could not even be made to desist by the angry and belligerent crowd of citizens that mobbed and stoned him. Somebody has remarked that Mr. Hamilton might have been said to have bled in the good cause for his face was covered with bleeding wounds while he pleaded for the right to be heard. Nothing is truer than that as "a defender of the faith he was entitled to honor" and as a leader of public opinion "far in advance of every other man in the federalist party."—Eureka Californian

MORE EVIDENCE
It Is Coming In Rapidly in Oakland.

Evidence on the following subject will prove of interest to every Oakland reader. So many people go through the same experience daily. This public statement should be proof positive to every wavering doubter. Read carefully. James Deal, of 620 Fifth Street, employed at the Ferry Bridge, says: "For three years I was subject to attacks of backache, each successive attack latterly was of long duration and much more acute than its predecessors. Some of them lasted for three days at a time and although I knew from the backache and from the action of the kidney secretions that there was something radically wrong with my kidneys, what to do to check the trouble, let alone cure it, was a mystery. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to try that remedy and my father went to the drug store for a box. It helped the last attack and I purchased a second. The aching ceased and the kidney secretions resumed their normal condition. This may be the means of relieving others in and around Oakland who are annoyed with kidney complaint and are at a loss to know what to do to get relief." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. DID NOT TRY TO SUICIDE

EDWARD H. GALE MAKES A STATEMENT FOR THE PUBLIC.

Editor TRIBUNE:—My attention has been called to an article recently printed in a local newspaper in which gross misstatements concerning myself abound. Having long been a subscriber and constant reader of THE TRIBUNE, and knowing its policy of fair play to all, and as my most intimate friends are also numbered among your readers and subscribers, I ask as simple justice to be permitted to place myself right before the general public and my friends through the medium of your widely circulated and deservedly popular journal. In relation to the article published, which reflects upon me, I wish to say: First, that while alone in my apartments one evening recently I was examining a small pistol, which was accidentally discharged. No damage resulted. My wife, in company with a woman friend, was at the theater at the time, viz., about 8.15 p.m.

Upon this accidental incident some ambitious reporter, perhaps at space rates, wove a long tale of "supposed attempt to commit suicide," a "rumored quarrel with my wife (whom I only recently married)," and numerous other hints at scurrilous attacks upon my character. It was stated that the pistol was discharged at near midnight. It was about 8.15, as stated. I emphatically deny any attempt to commit suicide, and emphatically deny having any quarrel with my wife. Indeed, our domestic bliss has never had the slightest shadow cast upon it. While I acknowledge that I use liquors in moderation, I emphatically deny that I had been drinking to excess the day of the pistol incident.

Linked with other false statements published were allegations that my father at his death had made provision against his estate being squandered by me by leaving the bulk of his property to his wife, my mother. As a fact, my parents were divorced two years prior to the death of my father, and at the time of divorce they effected a division of their property interests, so that my father left nothing by will to my mother. About $5000 which he had in bank was divided equally between myself and my mother, who is a minor. I was not given $5000, did not squander such sum as published, and such statement is utterly false. It was also charged that myself and wife left the Clarion Hotel immediately after the pistol incident. Instead, we did not leave for four days thereafter, and then not because of that incident, but for the good reason that a lady friend had acquired a rooming house and we moved to her place as more homelike and congenial.

On the evening of the discharge of my pistol by accident I had not felt well, and accompanied my wife and friend to the theater, so they went out shortly before 8 o'clock. They returned at 11 and knew nothing of the incident which occurred about 8.15, and not at midnight, as published.

I feel that I have been unjustly assailed in the publication of false statements, and as I expect to live in Oakland many years, I write this explanation that my friends may know the true facts. Sincerely yours, EDWARD H. GALE. Oakland, June 8, 1905.

A Sensational Suit Opportunity

Without exception, the great sale we inaugurate today is the most sweeping we have ever held. It is different from the ordinary "sale," it is a Lace House sale. The goods are new, not an assemblage of hold-over numbers gathered from the wholesale houses, for sale purposes, but this season's designs. Each garment was selected with the best judgment for this season's business. We know the styles to be right and when they were first put on display, not many weeks ago, prices were put on them that justified us in referring to them as special values.

Now, while the season is in full swing, we announce the following reductions from the former good-value prices.

NORWAY GOES ON WITHOUT A KING

COUNCIL OF STATE PROCEEDS TO TAKE CHARGE OF

CHRISTIANA, Norway, June 8.—The Council of State, following the action of the Storting in dissolving the union of Norway and Sweden, proclaiming that King Oscar is no longer King of Norway, and placing the reins of government in the hands of the Council of State, is proceeding with the reorganization of the government in the manner indicated in the program which had been more or less prepared before the final step was taken by which a peaceful revolution was accomplished.

The department of national defense has issued a decree to the army acquainting it with the resolution of the Storting and the assumption of the government by the Council of State and intimating that the army must comply with the new conditions, rendering allegiance to those now conducting the government. Minister of State Loveland has been appointed foreign minister and the Council of State has decided to divorce the foreign office from the departments of commerce, navigation, etc., with which heretofore it has been amalgamated. The council also resolved to eliminate the emblems of the union from the war flag of Norway.

WOMAN SUES BECAUSE OF HER ARREST

Neighborhood Quarrel in Melrose is Brought Into Superior Court.

Half of the population of Melrose is in attendance today on the trial of the $10,000 damage case before Judge Melvin brought by Mrs. Laura Stickney against J. F. Brevoort, whom she charges with having maliciously sworn to a complaint before the District Attorney charging her with insanity for the purpose of humiliating her before her neighbors.

The trouble, which is said to have originated over the refusal of Mrs. Stickney to associate with her neighbors across the street and the refusal of one lady to bow to the other or to pass the time of day, has resulted in numerous complications and brought about the arrest of one on a charge of insanity, with a suit in return for damages.

Mrs. Stickney was arrested on the complaint of Brevoort in March last and at her examination, before Judge Melvin, Drs. J. J. Medros and A. K. Crawford decided that she was sane, and it was apparent to the court that there was nothing wrong with her mentally, and in discharging her from custody Judge Melvin took occasion to reprimand her for her attempt to use the courts for the purpose of furthering private grievances against his neighbors. At the time Brevoort accused Mrs. Stickney with having made threats against his life and alleged that she was dangerous to be at large.

Following up her vindication before the court Mrs. Stickney went to Attorney Aldrich and Gentry and engaged them to bring an action against Brevoort for damages and he in turn has employed Attorney Reed, Nussbaum and Black to defend him. Her side of the case is being put on today and witnesses are testifying to the fact that there was nothing wrong with Mrs. Stickney so far as they knew at the time they heard of her arrest.

The first witness called was Deputy Constable Sherbourne, who stated that he had known Mrs. Stickney for about twenty years and had seen her just prior to her arrest, and was allowed to state that in his opinion she was perfectly sane. He said that he was in the habit of seeing her several times a week prior to her arrest and saw her on the day she was placed under arrest, and that from his observations and her answers to questions put to her by him he saw nothing the matter with her.

Attorney Aldrich tried to show by the witness that Brevoort had started the story that Mrs. Stickney had poisoned some dogs, but Sherbourne stated that Brevoort had never told him that she had done so nor ever heard him tell anyone else, and he was not allowed to tell what rumors he had heard in regard to the matter. He, however, was allowed to state what he saw, and said that on several occasions he saw Brevoort pointing to Mrs. Stickney and her house, and that people stopped and would then look over at the house, but he had never been near enough to Brevoort at these times to hear what he was saying to the people who stopped to listen to him.

Mrs. Stickney's son, in conversation, stated that the entire trouble arose over the fact that his mother would have nothing to do with the Brevoort family. She did not like Mrs. Brevoort and this engendered an animosity that finally involved the whole family and extended itself in acts of one kind and another, which reached a climax when the Brevoorts had her arrested.

WORK COMMENCED ON LINCOLN SCHOOL

The contracting firm of J. Bayles & Son, which was awarded the contract for the moving of the dwellings on the Lincoln School block preparatory to the erection of a new school building, has commenced work and will soon have the buildings ready for removal. The block is bounded by Tenth, Alice, Eleventh and Jackson streets. There are four private residences facing on Jackson street. Three of these were purchased by the city and will be moved. The one situated on the corner of Tenth and Jackson streets and the one just behind it facing on Tenth street, were not purchased by the city and it is the intention of the present owner of these two buildings to tear them down and erect a large apartment house on the corner.

The three buildings which are to be moved are large two-story dwellings. They will not be moved directly into the street, but will be transferred to Eleventh street and there placed on rollers, will be taken to their several destinations. This round about maneuver is made in order to save the

HILDERBRAND To Be Allowed to Ride Again BASEBALL Game Presented to the Seals PRIZE FIGHTS

FITZSIMMONS MUST TRAIN TO DEFEAT HIS OPPONENT MIKE SCHRECK

THE FRECKLED PLAYER HAS BEEN GUILTY OF LATE SUPPERS AND LATER HOURS.

Bob Need Not Worry Over Required Weight.

Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons, of special delivery solar plexus fame, and philosopher plenipotentiary to the pugilistic kingdom, is again enjoying good health.

As has been announced in THE TRIBUNE, have accepted an offer to fight twenty rounds in Salt Lake on July 4, and it is now up to them to get into condition for the fray.

Fitzsimmons broke his long siege of training by a celebration at Coney Island which lasted several days. Then word came that the fight was to take place after all and with only four or five days' work, Fitzsimmons resumed his training.

SCHRECK A COMER? Schreck has been coming to the front fast and he realizes that a victory over Fitzsimmons will place him in the front rank.

"Kansas Price" kept well within the racing laws of the Trans-Allegheny country when he ran Jim Arthur's horses up in selling races, notwithstanding Arthur had been his provider and counselor in many lean years.

Bad News, under the handling of trainer Hurley, is in great form at Gravesend. He galloped his stake winner a mile in 1:42 the other day.

But it is not a certainty that Price did not do something recently the stewards of the Jockey Club properly take cognizance of when he approached Frank Lightfoot on the Gravesend lawn and made significant remarks to him concerning the most valuable prize run outside New York and Trainer McLaughlin has his heart set on winning the stakes.

Proper, the Jennings horse, made a show of his field yesterday at Gravesend. As good as he could be had against the chances of the Postpones colt, Jennings, barring hard luck, is apt to draw down more money through his selling than he will through his racing during the season in California.

WHAT HAS JEFFRIES DONE, ANYWAY?--John L. Sullivan.

PORTLAND, June 8.—When John L. Sullivan first comes into the room you feel as if one of those mogul engines was panting along a couple of steel rails. That is the nearest thing to the entrance of the ex-heavyweight champion and even today the most popular man in Astoria, as he is pleased to term the game.

He dismisses that with a puff and turn of the hand that one fan-fan was the only man able to get so far as third base. Jones also pitched good ball, and although he was hit for ten safe ones, he kept them well scattered, and Los Angeles was unable to get a man across the plate until the last half of the ninth.

Jeffries has been quiet in "heavy-weight circles, and will continue to be so, because there is no competition. There is no one in the line just now. Jeffries has a hard time beating Fitzsimmons the last time they came together, and I don't believe he would have done it, but Fitz lost the use of his hand. The way to beat Jeffries is to stand up to him and go to his stomach.

JOCKEY HILDERBRAND TO BE ALLOWED TO RESUME RIDING.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Jockey Hilderbrand, who established last season a new record for winning mounts, will be allowed, it is understood, to resume riding when the meeting at Sheepshead Bay opens, one week from today.

Jimmy Britt now intends to take a trip through the Yosemite Valley in company with Tim Krelling. He will leave San Francisco in a day or two and be gone for two weeks. It is his intention to forget all about the fighting game and commune with nature and read Shakespeare.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Portland was unable to hit Gray yesterday, getting but three hits in the nine innings. Van Buren was the only man able to get so far as third base. Jones also pitched good ball, and although he was hit for ten safe ones, he kept them well scattered, and Los Angeles was unable to get a man across the plate until the last half of the ninth.

VICTORY GAINED MAY CONTEST THE BY UNION HAYWARD WILL

COTTAGE RESTAURANT HAS BEEN UNIONIZED—BALL
GAME ARRANGED.

A signal victory has been won by the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance in their contest with the employers. The Cottage Restaurant, which was the first to start the trouble between the proprietors and workers, has been unionized. Two "Union House" cards are being the windows, and every member of the working force has joined the union.

Mrs. J. F. Martini, the proprietress, refuses to state whether or not she has signed the agreement with the union for the coming year. It is said she will forfeit the $100 deposited in conjunction with the other members of the Restaurant Employers' Protective Association. When the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance first began to take action about the Cottage Restaurant, it was in the hands of Mrs. Hackett. After the place was sold to Mrs. Martini, pickets were posted to prevent union sympathizers from patronizing the restaurant. The Cottage Restaurant took the matter up and paid the cost of getting out an injunction to prevent the picketing. Then was organized the Protective Association, each member of which deposited into the hands of the executive board.

There are at present twenty-three unlicensed eating houses in Oakland. The names are as follows: Piedmont, Rockaway, Oyster Leaf, Coffee House, Roland's Restaurant, Lisbon, The Arcata, Overland, The Maple, Coffee, Kitchen, Ruppke's Restaurant, Sparta, Fabst Cafe, Tuxedo Lunch Counter, The Durka, The Broadway, The Liberty, California Tannery, Mark Gelder, Pullman House, Ridley House, The Martini House, and the Cottage.

GAME ARRANGED.
At the last meeting of Local 70 of the Brotherhood of Restaurant Workers were completed for a game of baseball with local 85 of San Francisco. The contest will be at Idora Park on Sunday, June 18. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to defray the expenses, and the surplus will be turned into the treasury of the Oakland nine, and used to help unionism when needed.

Persistent practice has been the rule in the Oakland team, and a victory is anticipated by Local 70. The boys have had the advantage of professional coaching and are in good trim. The line-up of the local nine is as follows:

Communications have been sent to the Santa Rosa and Union Iron Works nines, and it is expected that games will be arranged with these teams in the near future.

There will be a special meeting of the Oakland local next Tuesday night to elect a delegate to the international convention, to take place in August at Philadelphia.

VERDICT IN FAVOR OF COACHMAN

The insecure tying of a team has laid the firm of Grayson, Owen & Co. liable for $2000 damages, according to a verdict rendered last yesterday afternoon in the action brought by Hirst Parkin, coachman, to recover on account of personal injuries sustained in a collision. Parkin was suing for $10,250. Eleven of the jury agreed upon a verdict for $2000 damages. One Reimer Stover was of the opinion that the defendant was not liable, and declined to vote for any damages. As only nine votes were necessary to carry the verdict, his vote did not affect the result. Stay of execution was obtained by the attorneys for the defendant to prepare a motion for a new trial.

Parkin was injured in June, 1903, while driving in a buggy with Dr. J. M. Shannon, by whom he was employed as coachman. A runaway team, owned by Grayson, Owen & Co., ran into the buggy at Telegraph avenue and Sixteenth street. Parkin's left knee was injured. Experts testified that the limb was affected with tuberculosis, due to the injuring of the tissues.

CLERK FALLS FROM BICYCLE

George W. Geary, a clerk residing at 1639 Myrtle street, fell from his bicycle and cut a gash four inches long across his forehead last night. He was coming down Myrtle street and the lamp on his bicycle interfered with the turning of a wheel, stopping it. He was thrown to the ground on his head, suffering a deep wound over the left eye and loosening the teeth in the jaw. The ambulance from the Providence Hospital was summoned and the wounded man taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. L. R. Risken dressed the wound.

HOW TO FIND OUT

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. If it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures every ailment in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Company, Binghamton, New York. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in the OAKLAND DAILY TRIBUNE. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's. Binghamton, New York, on every bottle.

LAST TESTAMENT WAS MADE
DAY BEFORE MRS. HAYWARD DIED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A will contest involving between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 is said to be among the possibilities before the estate left by Mrs. Charity Hayward of California is settled. Mrs. Hayward, the widow of Alonzo Hayward, a multi-millionaire, died on June 1 at the home of her niece, Mrs. John S. Henry, in Newark, N. J. She had just arrived from her Western home for a visit when she was attacked by pneumonia.

When the news of her death reached California her attorneys telegraphed that Mrs. Hayward had made a will before leaving home in which her only child, Mrs. Emma Rose of New York City, was the sole beneficiary.

It is now claimed that a new paper is in existence making great changes in the distribution of the estate. This will be said to have been drawn up the day before Mrs. Hayward died, and it will be offered here for probate. Mrs. Emma Rose, the sole beneficiary under the California will, is the wife of Andrew W. Rose, a wealthy New Yorker.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL, which has just inaugurated an eighteen-hour passenger service between New York and Chicago, has issued a superb booklet of views along its various lines. These views are all taken in the great region lying between the Great Lakes, the Ohio and Potomac rivers, the Mississippi and the Atlantic seaboard, the busiest, most thriving and most populous section of the United States.

It is a region abounding in picturesque scenery and many triumphs of railroad engineering. In it are great coal, iron, oil and steel making industries, and the greatest manufacturing cities on the continent. All of which are splendidly served by the Pennsylvania Central, which ranks among the very first of the great railroad systems of the world.

The little booklet of views mentioned illustrates not only the principal points of interest in this vast and flourishing region, which has been aptly termed the heart of the United States, but the luxuries and conveniences of travel on the Pennsylvania lines as well. It is a pictorial proof that this is a great country and that the Pennsylvania is a great railroad.

MORTON TO MAKE AN AUTO TRIP

NEW YORK, June 8.—Secretary of the Navy Morton, who is to retire from the Cabinet July 1st, to become the head of the Metropolitan Subway Syndicate has arrived here to make his first survey of the field of his future operations. He will make an automobile tour over the routes of the underground lines which John B. McDonald as chief contractor for the Metropolitan expects to build. On his tour he will be accompanied by Mr. McDonald and other men interested in the syndicate.

Besides driving over the entire routes through Manhattan, Mr. Morton will make a tour of the Bronx, looking over the territory there which the proposed lines expect to develop and will endeavor to get an idea of prospective connections with railroad and other lines. His investigations probably will consume several days.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT SYNAGOGUE

There will be special services at the First Hebrew Congregational Church tomorrow. There will be a special choir, the occasion being the wedding of the services will begin promptly at 10 o'clock. Solomon, Sarah Annie Kahn, Arnold Cohen, John Abraham Cammouck and Albert Maurice Jacob.

SMALL SKIRMISH

TOKIO, June 8, 1 p. m.—Imperial Army headquarters made the following announcement today:
"At 11:30 o'clock on the morning of June 7 a body of Russians, some 160 strong, advanced from the direction of Sumatraz, about a mile and a quarter east of Yinyipienmen, but were met and repulsed by us on an eminence lying north of that place. The enemy fled in confusion toward Nienyiling, seven miles northeast of Yinyipienmen."
"One soldier and two saddled horses were captured."
"With the exception of skirmishes between scouts on both sides, there is no change to report elsewhere."

LONDON BUYS A MOUNTAIN RANCH

OAKLAND AUTHOR IS GOING TO BUILD A NEW HOME.

The Examiner this morning prints the following dispatch concerning Jack London:

SANOMA, June 7.—There have been persistent rumors of late that Jack London, the well-known writer who is spending the summer at Glen Ellen, will soon be married to Miss Churinton Kittredge. These rumors have been strengthened by London's purchase yesterday of the Glen Ellen place, a mountain ranch of 123 acres above Glen Ellen and by his declaration that he would build a splendid home on the place.

Miss Kittredge took great interest in the transaction. She is a young woman of prepossessing appearance and comes from a literary family, her uncle being a well-known publisher of the "Overland Monthly." Miss Kittredge resides with her aunt, Mrs. Barnes, above Glen Ellen, and is in company with Jack London, who is at work on a serial story for the Harpers. The new property he has acquired was held at a high figure,

ILLINOIS SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The Illinois Society of Oakland held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening in Foresters' Hall. There was a fair attendance.

A very enjoyable program was rendered, consisting of a vocal solo by Miss Alice Wood; recitation, "The Honored Husband," by Mrs. Young; harp solo, by A. L. Smith; address, Capt. W. H. Scott.

The society discussed the advisability of a picnic in the near future, and a committee was appointed to select a place and complete arrangements.

Quite a bit of interest was manifested in the welfare of the society. Several newcomers from the Prairie State were in attendance. The society invites all natives and former residents of Illinois to attend the meetings and become members. The next meeting will be held on the first Monday evening in July.

BAND CONCERT.

The following is the program for the concert Friday evening, June 9th, 1905, at Fourteenth and Broadway, 7:45.

March, "Victorious American," Tobal Overture, "Roman Magician," Ebbe Quartette from Rigoletto, Verdi Grand selection, "Gounod's Faust," Heinicke Intermission—Five minutes.

YOSEMITE BOARD MEETS

J. J. LERMAN IS ELECTED SECRETARY TO SUCCEED HIMSELF.

YOSEMITE, June 8.—The Board of Commissioners of the Yosemite held the first session of the annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the Guardian.

Three sessions each day will be held during the meeting, which will last several days. The only business of importance transacted at this morning's session was the election of officers. Charles S. Givons was re-elected vice-president and J. J. Lerman succeeds himself as secretary and treasurer. George T. Harlow was again chosen as guardian, having filled this position since September last on the retirement of J. F. Stevens. A review of the board's finances was made by the secretary. It showed a surplus of $13,000 in the treasury. As there was no appropriation made by the last Legislature for the benefit of the valley this surplus will be needed to meet the expenses of maintaining its present condition until the question of recession to the United States Government has been decided. At the afternoon session all existing concessions were renewed, and a discussion concerning the extension of the telephone system and the overhauling of bridges was favorably settled.

The members of the board who are absent are J. C. Wilson, W. G. Henshaw and Governor Pardee.

DENVER WANTS NEXT MEETING OF KNIGHTS

OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED BY ORGANIZATION TO-DAY.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—After a day devoted entirely to recreation the delegates to the national council of the Knights of Columbus resumed their business sessions this morning. After the consideration of the recommendations contained in the reports of Supreme Knight Hearn and the various other officers which occupied considerable time, matters connected with the good of the order were discussed. The election of officers will probably occur late this afternoon but it is expected very few changes in the staff will occur.

Denver is coming to the front as the next convention city. The officers of the national convention have received telegrams from the Governor of Colorado; from R. W. Speer, Mayor of Denver; the Chamber of Commerce; the Colorado State Realty Association; and the Hotel and Restaurant Men's Association of that city all urging that Denver be given the next meeting. They pledge a fund for entertainment of at least $15,000. Birmingham, Ala., and Detroit are each making a vigorous fight, but at present it appears that Denver is in the lead. The principal pleasure excursion today was a trip to Catalina Island, where the visitors participated in a varied program of entertainment. Tonight an elaborate banquet will be given by the local council of Knights to the delegates and a number of special guests.

SUBMARINE BOAT GOES TO THE BOTTOM

FOURTEEN MEN ARE LOST IN THE WRECK NEAR PLYMOUTH.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., June 8.—Submarine boat "A. 8" was lost off the breakwater here this morning. She had on board eighteen officers and men, including her regular crew and men who were in training.

Fourteen of the number were drowned. The others were picked up. The disaster occurred while the "A. 8" was proceeding to sea for practice, accompanied by another submarine boat and a torpedo boat. Three explosions were seen from the shore to occur on the "A. 8" which suddenly disappeared.

Tugs and divers immediately proceeded to the scene.

The submarine boat lies in eighteen fathoms of water. The first intimation of the disaster came from the boat herself signaling that she was submerged and could not come to the surface. A signal was received shortly before noon which said: "All right up to the present time."

Diving parties immediately proceeded to the scene. Those who were saved were standing in the vicinity of the conning tower at the time of the disaster and were picked up by a passing trawler. They were Lieutenant Candy, commander of the boat; Sub-Lieutenant Murdock, a petty officer and a seaman. The lost boat was of about 300 tons displacement and was launched in 1904.

TEAMSTERS ARE STILL STRIKING IN CHICAGO

PEACE IN WINDY CITY SEEMS TO BE AS FAR AWAY AS EVER.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Peace in the teamsters' strike seemed today to be as far away as ever.

Settlement with the express companies and a demand by the unions that police be withdrawn from wagons were apparently insuperable obstacles to an adjustment. President Cornelius Shea of the Teamsters' Union, took an active part in the latest conference with the employers, although he was responsible for blocking peace negotiations several days ago, after he had been left out of a meeting between a committee of employers and teamsters. Shea would have been excluded from the new conference if the employers had agreed to the demand of the union officials that the employers' attorney, Levy Mayer, also should keep away. This demand was refused promptly and Shea then was called in. He made a vigorous fight against altering the propositions of the teamsters to suit the demands of the employers.

With peace efforts again coming to naught, the prospective spread of the strike to 8,000 truck teamsters employed by members of the team owners' organization was today again a vital issue. Many of the owners were in favor of forcing matters with the drivers, but it was generally hoped that the neutral element in the association would make a hard fight to keep from becoming involved in the strike.

Beginning with a "peace argument," a labor discussion at North avenue and Robey street today grew into a riot which blocked two lines of street cars, held up traffic in streets, brought two police patrol wagons, and ended when one man was taken to the hospital, and four others were in cells. Incidentally several heads were bruised.

PROF. THOMPSON ALLOWS HALF A MILLION VOLTS TO GO THROUGH BODY.

LYNN, Mass., June 8.—To demonstrate his claims that there is little danger in electrical force when properly handled, Professor Elihu Thompson, of this city, has permitted a current said to have measured over a half million volts, to pass through his body without displaying the slightest tremor or experiencing the slightest physical discomfort from the test. The demonstration was made for the benefit of the members of the Commercial Club of Boston.

Professor Thompson adjusted a special apparatus to his body and a high frequency current was used. Suddenly there was a flash from the finger tips and great sparks flew into the air, illuminating the two incandescent lights that were held two feet from the fingers.

WHAT COTTON SAYS ABOUT THE LAND

Some of the people who sent a protest to the City Council Monday night charging that land to the extent of about fifteen acres belonging to the city had been fenced in northeast of Lake Merritt, allege that Cotton Brothers, E. J. and C. E., general contractors of this city, and G. W. Grayson are the persons who have fenced in the land referred to.

In an interview C. E. Cotton says that the land fenced in by himself and brother, about five acres is their property; that they bought it seven or eight years ago from G. W. Grayson and have a deed for the same.

Mr. Cotton says that about five acres adjoining theirs belongs to Grayson and that he has fenced it the past few days. Mr. Cotton declares, however, that none of the fences prevent the use of public thoroughfares; that there was a wagon road, but no authorized street, across Grayson's land.

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicine. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me.
